

Striking Description Of Leviathan Of The Air

MINEOLA, July 9.—At a distance of some 200 yards, the limits to which the visitors of Roosevelt field are held by the R-34 presents an immense, egg-shaped object, the interior mechanism of the master craft has been advanced, and from it all parts of the ship are controlled by means of speaking tubes and bell signals. Here also is the mechanism for controlling the water ballast tanks. Of the two pilot wheels in this forward car, the front wheel controls the rudder, while the side wheel controls the elevator planes. This car also contains the navigator's plotting table where he makes his charts and here also are his navigating instruments.

In the rear of the forward gondola is the wireless room which also holds one of the ship's engines. From the navigator's car a ladder of aluminum runs to the ship proper above. This ladder is enclosed and to the observer at a distance it resembles a tube. The two side gondolas each contain an engine and are only large enough for two men to work. The rear car holds two engines.

DECK INSIDE BAG

Inside the big bag is the deck of the ship. It runs the greater part of the length of the bag and is only nine inches wide except at its middle where it widens out into a compartment eight by twenty feet used by the officers and crew as a dining saloon. The hydrogen gas, the lifting power of the ship, is carried in eighteen compartments inside the envelope of the air when the greatest quantity of gas can be taken into the bags. These compartments are at the top of the ship and each is of about equal capacity and is equipped with an automatic hand valve for the control of the gas contained in them. These compartments are of gold heater skin, which in common language is nothing more than the linings of hot-water pipes.

When ready to start on a flight, the final inflation of these gas containers is made. This operation takes place usually at the minimum temperature of the air.

When the R-34 leaves the ground, it is permitted to rise to its equilibrium or about as high as it can go. On reaching its equilibrium the engines are started and the flight begins. The fore-gasoline and oil is carried in controlled. Six other water bags are controlled by levers and their contents can be released as desired. The water ballast contains alcohol to sufficient amount to prevent freezing in high altitudes. The ship also carries three tanks of drinking water for the crew, each tank containing seventy gallons.

The dining saloon contains three tables capable of being raised to the upper frame work when not in use. (Continued on Page Six)

GERMAN ASSEMBLY RATIFIES THE PEACE TREATY

Some Views of Huge British Airship

WILSON BACK AT DESK FACES A HUGE MASS OF BUSINESS

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 9.—President Wilson returned to his desk today after an absence of four months at the peace conference to find such a mass of official business, that it probably will be two weeks before he can start on his tour of the country treating for the peace treaty and the League of Nations.

Plans for the trip have not yet been completed, but it was said at the White House that the president probably would so time his schedule as to reach the Pacific coast at the time of the arrival there of the newly created transoceanic liner which is to start from Hampton Roads for San Francisco about the middle of this month.

President Wilson was represented at the peace conference by a committee of seven, ready to place himself at the disposal of the senate foreign relations committee or other committees of congress to answer any questions concerning the peace treaty and the League of Nations, which he will present to the senate tomorrow in person.

While no definite engagements for the president had been made early today, he was expected to confer with members of the senate committee and with cabinet officials and others within the next few days.

The president remained in bed late today, resting after his trip home. Brig. Gen. L. E. O. Charlton, his physician, said the president was in good health.

Going to his office shortly before 11 o'clock, the president summoned Secretary Baughman and they spent some time mapping out a program of work. The pressing of the many matters before the president were the annual appropriation bills recently passed by congress. In considering the agricultural bill, the executive had before him requests that be veto the measure because of the order repealing the daylight savings law.

WILL RECEIVE NEWSPAPER MEN

Soon after entering his office, the president sent word that he would receive newspaper correspondents tomorrow at 10:15 a. m. It was not in doubt what the president desired to do, but it was believed he would express his views to the correspondents.

British Dirigible Will Start On Return Flight To Britain Before Daybreak Tomorrow

MINEOLA, N. Y., July 9.—The British dirigible R-34, will start on its return flight before daybreak tomorrow, it was announced positively this afternoon by Major G. H. Scott, her commander. He expects to get away, he said, between 3 and 4 o'clock.

When the R-34 starts on her return flight to England, each member of the crew will carry a Bible, the gift of the New York Bible Society. It was announced here today.

A specially bound edition also was given to the R-34 as part of the dirigible's equipment.

Colonel W. N. Hensley, Jr., who will be the American observer aboard the R-34 on its return flight, has been authorized by the war department to continue his observations in Europe after he has landed at East Fortune, Scotland. Colonel Hensley takes the place for the return trip of Lieutenant-Commander Zachary Lansdowne, U. S. N., who was the American observer on the R-34 on the westward journey.

Colonel Hensley will study all the new types of balloons in England and France. He is recognized as one of the foremost authorities on ballooning in the army.

QUITS THE CABINET

COPENHAGEN, Tuesday, July 9.—Herr Wiesel, minister of economics in the German cabinet, has resigned because of the opposition of other members of the cabinet to his plan which were opposed to free trade.

THEY GET THEIR RUM

MINEOLA, July 9.—War time prohibition has not prevented the navy department from obtaining rum, which is part of the official ration of the dirigible's crew. Twenty gallons of the liquor reached here today and is being stored aboard the R-34. Navy officials said it came from a New York dealer. "I don't say," said Major J. F. Pritchard, of the British air ministry, who expressed his pleasure that the dirigible would not sail rumless, "that judging from the extent of the fuss made over this problem the navy department must have had to get the president's signature."

AND STILL THEY CLIMB

CHICAGO, July 9.—Hog prices today reached another new top record $22.20 a hundred weight, an increase of 10 cents over yesterday's record.

862,322 CHECKS IN JUNE FROM WAR RISK BUREAU

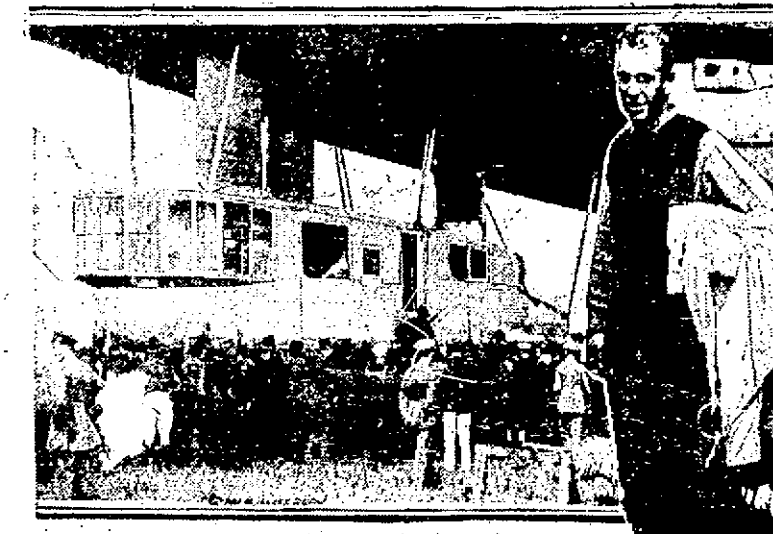

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 9.—Payments by the war risk bureau to soldiers and their dependents amounted to $20,800,000 in June, 862,322 checks being mailed. Payments this year amounted to more than $20,000,000.

NEW PACIFIC FLEET WILL SAIL JULY 19

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 9.—The newly organized Pacific fleet will sail from Hampton Roads for the west coast Saturday, July 19. It was announced at the navy department today that final arrangements were completed at a conference in New York yesterday between Secretary Daniels and Admiral Hugh Rodman, commander of the fleet.

NOVELIST SUCCEUMBS

KNOXVILLE, TENN., July 9.—John Fox, Jr., novelist, died at his home last night at Elm Store Gap, Virginia, from pneumonia.

Arrival of R-34 at Roosevelt field, and Commander Lansdowne, photographed shortly after the dirigible landed.

A new chapter in the history of aviation was written last Sunday when the giant British dirigible R-34, the first lighter-than-air machine to fly across the ocean, landed at Roosevelt field, Mineola, Long Island. One of the members of the crew was Commander Lansdowne, an American. The larger photo was taken just as the R-34 landed. American soldiers and sailors are seen crowding around the pilot house.

Government's Drive Against Sale Of "Mild Beer" Opens In Pittsburg

PITTSBURGH, PA., July 9.—The government's drive against the sale of beer containing 2.34 percent alcohol was launched here today when U. S. Attorney R. L. Crawford filed a suit against the Pittsburgh Brewing Company, one of the city's largest breweries in the United States. The suit charges violation of the war time prohibition law. Twelve officials of the company were named in the information.

Immediately following filing of the suit, U. S. Judge W. H. S. Thompson on pleas of the federal attorney, issued a writ upon the company to appear in court. Simultaneously, he issued bench warrants for the arrest of the eleven officers of the company named in the suit. The warrants were placed in the hands of U. S. Marshal Street, who immediately started out to round up the officials.

HAMBONE'S MEDITATIONS

DEYS SOME FOLKS, WEN DEY! DOES YOU A LIL FAVOR YOU JES, CAINT FUH-GIT IT—CASE DEY! ALL TIME TALKIN' TO YOU 'BOUT IT!!!

The individuals named in the suit, some of whom are millionaires, were: C. H. Ridall, E. J. Vilsack, W. P. Heckman, A. P. Bearensberg, E. H. Straub, A. H. Sustein, L. P. Monahan, A. A. Fraumenheim, E. W. Gwiner, Alois Winter and George A. Dickson.

The suit was filed by the federal attorney on information furnished by it, H. Spencer, special agent of the Department of Justice. An affidavit of Spencer accompanying the papers, have been sold contained more than one-half of one percent alcohol in violation of the war time prohibition law.

FRENCH GOVERNMENT WINS CONTENTION BY NARROW MARGIN

PARIS, Tuesday, July 9.—The chamber of deputies today rejected a bill providing for the immediate raising of the state of siege and the suppression of the censorship, the vote being 256 to 200. The government represented by Stephen Pichon, the foreign minister, opposed the measure.

The Socialist and the Republican Socialists demanded the immediate suppression of both the state of siege and the censorship, but M. Pichon declared that this step was impossible before the treaty of peace becomes effective through its ratification by three or more powers.

The debate closed with a categorical statement by the government raising the question of confidence in the minister of the bill. The chamber, however, came greatly agitated during the discussion, the Socialists and the radicals becoming particularly aroused. Victor Dubouché, deputy from the eastern Pyrenees, read a recent resolution adopted by the executive committee of the radical party, calling for an immediate return to peace conditions. Many of the radicals, however, refused to follow their party on this question and voted with the government. It was remarked in the lobbies after the vote that this was the second time the government's majority had been reduced to hardly more than fifty, the smallest margin on which any government had continued in power since the beginning of the war.

MONTENEGRO PROTESTS

PARIS, Thursday, July 11.—The Montenegro government has addressed a new note to the peace conference, the question of confidence in the minister of the bill. The chamber, however, came greatly agitated during the discussion, the Socialists and the radicals becoming particularly aroused. Victor Dubouché, deputy from the eastern Pyrenees, read a recent resolution

ALL DOUBT OF ACCEPTANCE BY GERMANS IS REMOVED

WEIMAR, July 9.—The resolution ratifying the peace treaty was adopted by the German national assembly today by a vote of 208 to 115.

PARIS, July 9.—The German national assembly in Weimar has adopted the resolution ratifying the peace treaty, according to advices received here today.

The resolutions reads: "The peace treaty signed on June 28, 1919, as well as the protocol annexed and special agreements on military occupation of the Rhineland are hereby ratified. This law becomes effective from the date of its promulgation."

Ratification of the peace treaty by the German national assembly removes all doubt of the acceptance of the terms by Germany.

The national assembly by ratifying the treaty makes it possible for the allied and associated powers to raise the blockade. Official notification was sent Germany, June 29, that the blockade would be raised when the treaty was ratified. Placing this condition on the raising of the blockade was looked upon in peace conference circles as a sure plan for securing speedy ratification by Germany.

The council of five on Monday decided to lift the commercial censorship on communications with Germany simultaneously with the removal of the blockade.

When three of the principal allied powers, in addition to Germany, have ratified the treaty, it becomes effective for those who have ratified it. After Germany and the three allied powers have ratified it, the treaty will come into force for each other power on the day when it notifies the peace conference secretariat of its ratification.

The resolution adopted by the allied council concerning the blockade was as follows: "The superior blockade council is instructed to base its arrangements for rescinding restriction upon trade with Germany upon the assumption that the allied and associated powers will not wait to raise the blockade until the completion of ratification, as provided for at the end of the treaty with Germany but that it is to be raised immediately upon receipt of information that the treaty of peace has been ratified by Germany."

Promulgation of the resolution ratifying the treaty is dependent upon the signing of the resolution by President Ebert.

Ready For Dog Catcher

That "infernal" dog question has just about been settled. Tuesday afternoon the county commissioners delivered to Sheriff Ernest Ricker a net and cages for the taking and imprisonment of stray dogs who are wont to run the public streets without a license tag. The net and cages were made by Alvin Hibbard, inmate of the county infirmary. While not the latest thing in the dog catching line, the equipment made by Hibbard will serve its purpose well.

The commissioners did not stop at furnishing the net and cages, but made the job of dog catcher possible by appropriating $100 which will pay the salary of a dog catcher for thirty days. The dog catcher is to furnish his own conveyance.

It was learned Tuesday afternoon that Henson Shookwiler, formerly constable at Sciotoville, was one of the several applicants for the job. Sheriff Ernest Ricker will probably appoint a dog catcher in a few days, and the work of clearing the city of stray and unlicensed dogs will be started.

The meeting of the Loyal Women's class of the New Boston Christian church, which was to have been held at the home of Mrs. Joseph Richardson, of Rhodes avenue, Thursday evening, has been postponed until Tuesday evening.

Tries To Kill Himself

Considerable excitement was created in the vicinity of Tenth and John streets, Wednesday noon, when Thomas Boone, 20, former proprietor of the Viaduct Garage, in a fit of despondency, over trouble with his wife, Ethel, which resulted in their separation more than three weeks ago, made an unsuccessful attempt to commit suicide by drinking carbolic acid.

Boone did not get the acid to his lips, but spilled the contents over the hands of Officer John Lewis and Judge Beatty, the dory. Both burning their hands quite severely. The two men had been summoned to remove Boone from the house of his wife's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hamilton, 925 John street, where he started a disturbance after calling them in an effort to see his wife and child and was ordered away.

The officer and Judge Beatty had just got hold of Boone, who acting wildly, while being led away suddenly pulled the vial of acid from his pocket and declared his intention of drinking it, saying that he wanted to die. A scuffle ensued in which the acid was spilled.

Boone was then placed under arrest and brought to the city jail, where he will be detained pending an examination into his mental condition. The man frequently declared on his way to the prison that he would carry out his threat as soon as released.

Joseph Kerrigan Gets Contract For Ballots

The contract for printing 8,000 election ballots for the August Primary has been awarded Joseph Kerrigan, his bid being considered the lowest by the Board of Elections. The bids were submitted on 1,000 ballots. Kerrigan's bid was as follows: municipal ballots, Portsmouth, $12.75; municipal ballots, New Boston, $15.50; municipal ballots, Portsmouth, $18.75; municipal ballots, Portsmouth, $18.75.

Mrs. Boone since leaving Boone has been employed at the Excelsior shoe factory, and on June 25 last, filed suit in the local common pleas court for divorce through Judge Beatty. Boone, it is said, left her some days ago in company with another woman and he only returned to this city last night.

An announcement which will come as a surprise to many local persons is the news of the marriage of W. Roy Dillon to Miss Harriet O'Brien, of East Orange, N. J., last April, in New York City. The groom is a former Portsmouth boy and a son of Mrs. E. L. Dillon, of High street. While in service he was an army field clerk stationed at Hoboken. Since his discharge he has resumed his former position in Washington, D. C., where he and his bride are making their home. While in Portsmouth Mr. Dillon was employed by the Kelly Shoe Co.

The social committee in charge of the reunion of the Portsmouth high school class of 1917, is planning to give one of the most enjoyable affairs of the summer season, when the members of the class gather at the All Saints Parish House Thursday for an informal evening of music, dancing and games. All members who will attend the reunion are urged to read in the acceptance at once in order that the final arrangements may be completed. The social committee is composed of Misses Winnie Krayn, Zelma Lindemeyer, Jennie Lynn, Mrs. Curtis Bellamy and John Schlicher.

Title-Less Play To Be Presented Tomorrow

"This is the correct title," called the man holding the hat.
"And the prize goes to..."
sang out the man in hero's costume, while "..." stepped forward amid the applause of the audience. A $5 gold piece changed hands. One lucky person left the hall wrenched in smiles.

Of course, this description is a bit previous, but Thursday night is tomorrow night when the "title-less" play will be presented at the Brookline Casino. The clever person who guesses the correct title of the play will win the prize of five dollars in gold. If more than one person guesses correctly the names will be placed in a hat, the winner's name being pulled out by a disinterested party.

The play, which is said to have a most interesting and original plot, was written by a Portsmouth business man who shrinks from publicity for business reasons.

After the first presentation of the play Thursday night the guessing contest will be on.

At this performance also a 100 pound pig will be given away at the country store besides 24 other prizes in merchandise.

This evening marks the last performance of "The Dawn of Tomorrow," the play in which Helen Ware portrayed her slattern. It is a play every one should see with its needless heartache and promise of happiness in "The Dawn of Tomorrow."

Mrs. Ruth Shaw Danner
The light of a pure life passed through nature into eternity when Ruth Shaw Danner, daughter of Mrs. A. G. Curry, 810 Gay street, closed her eyes in everlasting sleep on Tuesday afternoon, July 8, 1919.

She was born in Adams county on August 11, 1887, but her parents moved to Portsmouth when she was a small child and she lived the remaining years of her short life in this city.

Early in life she became affiliated with the church and lived a true, Christian life, never being absent from her accustomed place in Sunday school except when hindered by sickness.

She was of a kind and loving disposition, a favorite in her home where she will be greatly missed.

She accepted a call in August 1916 to serve her country and enlisted on a Yonemante, in which branch of service she served at Portsmouth, Virginia until February 1919, at which time she was discharged from active duty.

On June 21, 1919 she was married to David Danner, and on the following day was stricken with the terrible disease which so suddenly caused her death.

It seemed that she was just blossoming into womanhood and the happiest part of her life had just begun.

Besides the grief-stricken husband, she leaves a mother, father, a sister, Mrs. C. H. Davidson, of this city, and a host of friends and relatives who deeply mourn their loss.

Funeral services will be held at Trinity church Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock and will be conducted by Rev. N. E. Butler. Burial will be in the Wheelersburg cemetery.

Mrs. John W. Walker
Mrs. John W. Walker of Columbus, passed to the Great Beyond Tuesday evening at 6 o'clock, at Grant hospital, shortly after she underwent an operation for the removal of a tumor. Mrs. Walker was formerly Miss Alice Miller, who lived here for a number of years. Her death came as a shock to her loved ones and friends. The deceased was 41 years of age. Besides her husband, John Walker, of Columbus, she is survived by one son, Glenn Basham of Sciotoville and one sister, Mrs. Susan Crabtree of Findlay, O. The remains will arrive here this evening and will be taken to Winder's mortuary. They will be laid to rest in Greenlawn cemetery tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock when Rev. Geo. Belcher will conduct short services at the grave.

CHOCOLATE SOLDIER, THE MELTING POT AND OTHER FINE ATTRACTIONS ON THE CHAUTAUQUA PROGRAM

The Belpath Chautauqua this season, to be in Portsmouth July 21 to July 27, offers programs unrivaled in this city. The talent this season is exceptional. A play and a comic opera will be presented with full casts: "The Melting Pot" and "The Chocolate Soldier."

Katharine Ridgeway by whose standard other readers have been measured, will be here the sixth night of the chautauqua. Grace Halsey Mills, for several years leading lady with the Ben Greet players, will star in "The Melting Pot."

One of the most interesting features will be the appearance of Capt. Paul Hawser who wears a great British distinguished service cross. He will relate his experiences as a night bomber, having participated in bombing raids over Ostend, Bruges, and Zeppelins. He is one of England's great newspaper correspondents.

The comic opera "The Chocolate Soldier," a show with elaborate scenery, complete costumes, musical numbers, humorous lines and comic situations, will be presented. There will be 25 players in the cast.

The music talent is out of the ordinary in every entertainment of the chautauqua as the following stars will appear to pleasure Portsmouth audiences: "The Kyril Orchestral Sextet," organized and coached by Kyril Kyriloff and directed by Alexander Schabell for seven years concert master of the Chicago Opera Company, will be a feature. The Althea Viola Chorus has a peculiar appeal with its six singing violas and six "singing girls." The Weber Male Quartet, known how to please the public as all patrons of the Chautauqua will find after their delightful program. Madam Sibyl MacDermid who has won success at home and abroad in singing will prove an additional feature as will Knight McGregor, the gifted Canadian baritone, soloist at the Rockefeller church in New York City.

Among some of the other well known names is that of Henry A. Adrian, friend of Luther Burbank and lecturer on Burbank's wonderways with

If Thin And Nervous, Try Phosphate

Nothing Like Plain Bitro-Phosphate to Put on Firm, Healthy Flesh and to Increase Strength, Vigor and Nerve Force.

When one starts to consider the host of thin people who are searching continually for some method by which they may increase their flesh to normal proportions by the filling out of ugly hollows, rounding off the protruding angles with the attendant bloom of health and attractiveness, it is no wonder that many and varied suggestions along this line appear from time to time in public print.

While excessive diseases might be attributed to various and subtle causes in different individuals it is a well-known fact that the lack of sufficient phosphorus in the human system is very largely responsible for this condition. Experts on human and animal by many scientific tests demonstrated beyond question of doubt that a body deficient in phosphorus becomes nervous, sickly and thin. A noted author and professor in his book "Chemistry and Food Nutrition," published in 1918, says: "It is the amount of phosphorus nutrition required for the normal nutrition of man is seriously underestimated in many of our standard text books."

It seems to be well established that this deficiency in phosphorus may now be met by the use of an organic phosphate known throughout English speaking countries as Bitro-Phosphate. Through the assimilation of this phosphate by the nervous tissue the phosphoric content when absorbed in the amount normally required by nature soon produces a welcome change in our body and mind. Nerve impulses disappear, vigor and strength replace weakness and lack of energy, and the whole body soon loses its ugly hollows and shrivel angles, becoming enveloped in a glow of perfect health and beauty as the will and strength to be up and doing.

CAUTION—While Bitro-Phosphate is unexcelled for the relief of nervousness, general debility, etc., those taking it who do not desire to put on flesh should use extra care in avoiding fat-producing foods.

DECLINES THE HONOR

CHICAGO, July 8.—James Hamilton Lewis, former U. S. senator from Illinois, who recently received word that he had been decorated by Belgium for war services, announced today that he had written the King of Belgium declining the honor.

"The law passed by congress allowing decorations for military service on battlefields cannot apply to me as my service in Belgium, though done at the front and on the battlefields, was not of the character entitling me to decoration," said Mr. Lewis.

on battlefields cannot apply to me as my service in Belgium, though done at the front and on the battlefields, was not of the character entitling me to decoration," said Mr. Lewis.

PEORIA, Ill., July 8.—A majority of 1,200 employees of the Corn Products Refining Company plant, at Peoria, went on strike today when the time limit given the officials to agree to their demand for a "closed shop" expired.

The plant opened for operation this morning and a part of the day shift appeared for work. More than a hundred strikers soon afterward gathered in front of the plant and held a demonstration in protest. There was some jeering but no violence.

PORTSMOUTH

"Who Will Pay The Rent When You Grow Old? Build Your Own Home."

Dayton, Ohio is acknowledged to be one of the busiest and most energetic live wire cities in our entire United States—Yes, in the whole world.

THEY ADVERTISE!

Twice in one year the people of Dayton spent $35,000 in BOOSTING Dayton.

DID YOU READ IT?

They bought seven pages in The Saturday Evening Post, telling what Dayton was doing. They told about their industries—their schools—their amusements—

THEIR HOMES.

They showed the wonderful opportunities they had to offer people who came there to work and live and enjoy life—there in Dayton.

It was headed

DOMINANT DAYTON U. S. A.

And it accomplished wonders, for it placed Dayton where they wanted it—in the public eye.

LET'S BLOW OUR OWN HORN—LET'S BOOST PORTSMOUTH,

You and all of us,

BOOST PORTSMOUTH.

Let us place Portsmouth where it rightly belongs.

Portsmouth is ideally situated for a manufacturing center, with splendid railroad facilities, and waterways, and many obvious advantages that other cities lack, and there is no reason why Portsmouth should not become one of the first cities of the land.

BOOST PORTSMOUTH.

Things are moving so rapidly now-a-days that people saying it can't be done are interrupted by someone doing it.

LET'S DO IT!

BOOST

Never in the history of America has the demand for homes been so persistent as it is today.

With the restoration of peace conditions new industries are springing up all over the country and old industries are looking around for room in which to expand.

The towns that are to receive the benefit of the prosperous times that are coming must be in a position to accommodate an enormous influx of workers, for without adequate homes for its people a town cannot prosper and grow.

The Portsmouth Real Estate Company has been formed with the primary object of erecting a large number of houses in this vicinity.

Building will commence immediately, and as the demand for homes is so great and the market so poorly supplied, the money invested will show substantial returns in a few months.

Remember, there is no safer investment than real estate. Banks, Trust Companies and Building and Loan Societies will lend more money on real estate than on any other security.

Put your money in the safest investment in the world and at the same time help boost and build up your home town.

The stock of this company is now being offered at $25 per share. Dividends will be paid semi-annually, the first dividend being due December 31st, 1919.

Application blanks may be obtained at the head office, Turley Building, or will be mailed on request. Payments for stock may be made in full or 25 per cent. with application and balance at the rate of 25 per cent. per month.

CUT OUT THIS COUPON AND MAIL IT TO US—RIGHT NOW.

It is said that a Portsmouth man traveling in the East was asked where his home was. He answered "Portsmouth." "Which Portsmouth?" he was asked.

Let there be only one Portsmouth,—Portsmouth, Ohio — Peerless Portsmouth, U. S. A.

LET'S ADVERTISE.

Shall we be asked "Which Portsmouth?" or shall we advertise like other cities?

We can get more Business to come here, encourage more people to live and work here, if we advertise in words and ACTIONS.

BOOST PORTSMOUTH.

Portsmouth needs more homes, and then more homes and then still more.

We must let people hear of the splendid housing facilities here in Portsmouth and then they will flock to the

PEERLESS CITY

Now a word or two about the

PORTSMOUTH REAL ESTATE COMPANY

For months people here in Portsmouth have been saying: "Portsmouth needs homes—Portsmouth must have homes or strangle."

While others are talking, The Portsmouth Real Estate Company is acting. This company has been incorporated under the laws of the state of Ohio, and already sufficient capital has been interested to make a very healthy start, and building will commence immediately.

Here is your opportunity to help boost Portsmouth and at the same time make a profitable investment.

The stock of this company is now being offered at $25.00 per share and we want YOU to be associated with this organization.

Every share of stock sold means a better, bigger Portsmouth and every dollar raised means a bigger BOOST.

Here Is One Thing That Is Absolutely Impossible

Rheumatism Has Never Been Cured by Liniments or Lotions, and Never Will Be.

You never know of Rheumatism that most painful source of suffering, unless you have it. It is a disease that will never be cured by any liniment or lotion, and it will never be cured by any other external application. And you will never be cured by any other external application.

But why be satisfied with temporary relief from the pains of rheumatism? Why not get a permanent cure? Why not get a permanent cure? Why not get a permanent cure?

Filling up errors with the industriousness of a farmer laying in his winter supply of cordwood, the Solvay team of the Industrial League, which is well out in front of the other five teams, were routed to the tune of 8 to 6 by the Excelsiors at the Severn street lot, last evening, before what is thought to be the largest crowd of the season—not only the largest exclusively, but most enthusiastic as well.

The game was intensely interesting, and true to the American spirit, the rooting was for the "underdog," and directed against the leaders. The Solvay started out as a million scores or less, slugging their way toward the mound for the Excelsiors for three earned runs in the third inning. Up to this time the Excelsiors had answered but one counter. But when the Solvays grabbed off their third of scores in the third, the Excelsiors got busy and enjoyed the largest inning of the season, sending over seven large and juicy runs, while the Solvay boys floundered around in a vain endeavor to prevent the massacre. After the Solvays had grabbed off their three scores, Manager Josephus Daniel Barber took up the running and barred the way for the leaders until the last round when they pulled a rally that had the fans on the anxious seat for several minutes. Three runs were sent across the rubber, when Manager Barber asserted himself and locked the bats.

The crowd was on the tip toe of expectancy all through the struggle. With Meyers in the box the Solvays expected an easy victory, but the shoe-makers got next to the big fellow in the fourth frame and drove out six hits, although it must be admitted the Solvays gave him support that would break the heart of a less sturdy brawler than Meyers. He kept putting the ball over and his team under hard kicking it around in the same fashion of that Missouri bound dog. Shoemaker in mid-air and Burton in tight spilt the beans every time they got the opportunity, and they were finally sent to the dugout by acting manager Daughman, who played left hand who had to exercise his authority several times during the progress of the game. In fact he wore a straight path from left to the diamonds and those who witnessed the work of the Solvays are willing to bet Manager Daughman had started a crop of silver white among the darkened beds.

Pitcher Meyers was compelled to retire after the fourth inning and Rollins took his place on the mound. When this chap faced the hitters the Excelsiors were done and the next they had secured their eight runs. Rollins allowed but one hit, a questionable one at that, for Burton should have devalued the sweat as it came directly to him. He misjudged the wall-p and Manager Barber was credited with his second hit of the inning.

The Excelsiors made one in their half of the third. Rollins went out on a roller to the box and Shoemaker dropped Hog's offer, the batter taking two strikes. He took third on Hensge's out and scored when Bradford sent an awkward blunder through the infield. Bradford was forced by Cornette. In the fourth the shoe-makers had a field day. Manager Barber started the fun with a solid swing to right, which Burton threw wild and the manager went to second. Burton dropped Ross fly. Pierson walked. Rollins fanned and Hoerr flied to mid-air. Hits followed in rapid succession from the bats of Hensge, Bradford, Cornette and Barber and seven runs came home. Ross ended the inning by fanning. Rollins went in in time to fan Ross exchanging places with Meyers who went to first.

Manager Barber had gone in after one man was put in the third and until the last inning had allowed but one hit. In the seventh, Manager Daughman left off with a solid batter to mid-air, and Valodin singled to left. Cooper was hit by a pitched ball, filling the bases and making the situation quite tense. Jones, who failed to hit safely during the evening, skied to third. Rollins tore off a single to left and Cornette took the relay and tried to head off Cooper at third, throwing wild. Daughman, Valodin and Cooper scoring. Then Manager Barber put on the breaks, getting Meyers on a fly to second and forcing Pierson to hit an easy roller to first.

Henry "Bud" Stahler was one of the local fans at the big championship prize fight in Toledo July 4th, when Jack Dempsey put Jess Willard out of the running. Bud paid $10 for a seat and crowded with the rest into the $40 seats. He said that it was worth $40 to see the big arena and that the thousands of straw hats looked like a big field of straw.

Davis Sees Dempsey

J. E. Davis, of New Boston, got a glimpse of the new heavyweight champion, Jack Dempsey, Sunday while in Cincinnati. Davis was at Chester Park when Dempsey put in his appearance at five o'clock. He is giving three round exhibition matches with Big Bill Tate, his sparring partner, and shows the punches with which he punishes Willard down and out. The park management is charging 50, 75 cents and $1.00 admission to see Dempsey. According to Davis, Dempsey appears timid and backward like a big school boy. "I don't see how any man can stand up against Dempsey's blows," said Davis. Dempsey tore a punch from Tate's jaw with his sledge hammer shows the punches with which he punishes Willard down and out. Oscar DeLotelle, local boy, who has been twirling good ball for the Molins, 11, team in the Three I League, was fined three times in one week by umpires, the three fines amounting to $15. DeLotelle did not do a thing but leave the team for several days, go to Chicago and book on with a semi-professional team, pitch for them and turn in a winner, and received $40 for his afternoon's work. He then went back to Molins and paid his fine with the money and is now playing again.

"Who Will Pay The Rent When You Grow Old? Build Your Own Home"

In the atmosphere of the deep out-falls around the National League, and as this is being written, he is loading the park in the sealer loop, with a slugging average of .418 in thirty-nine games.

There is only one thing more difficult than keeping Cravath out of the lineup of the Phillies, and that is keeping him out of the set that dominates National League batting. He's always there, or thereabouts. On past records Garry ranks as a consistent .250 hitter. There have been years when he did much better, but few out of his grand total of nineteen in which he fell below that mark.

The best thing about Cravath's hitting, aside from the fact that he is a long-distance slugger, is his ability to clout 'em on the nose when there are runners on the base. He's broken up many a ball game in his day, and he'll probably break up many more 'ere he paces along to the has-been class.

Like Sam Crawford, the veteran, Garry is a better of the type who will make life miserable for the pitchers just as long as he can take a toe-hold at the plate. He isn't the strongest of fielders he used to be. He's slowing up in that respect. But he's still fast enough to gallop around right field for the Phils, and after he serves his best day as a fielder, he will still be a valuable asset as a pinch hitter, for the old eagle eye is not dimming, and we can prove this by any number of National League pitchers.

Hal Chase perpetrated a feat in the first game of a recent double header in Brooklyn that brought to mind one of the favorite stunts practiced by Hans Wagner when the Flying Dutchman was in his prime. With Zimmerman on first base in the eighth inning and Chase at bat, a hit and run play was decided upon. Otto Miller, anticipating such a move, called for pinch out, which Larry Cheney delivered. Had the ball gotten by Chase, Zimmerman, who had darted off first base, would have been trapped, but Chase felled the Robins by throwing his bat at the ball, knocking the pellet into right center for a two base hit. Nap Lajoie was a wizard at this same stunt in the American league.

Combs Black declared he has picked up the most promising looking ball player that has broken into the American league since George Blaser arrived. Burros, the first baseman he bought at Columbia, S. C., is the man he wants. On his way back to Philadelphia from Columbia, Combs stopped off in Washington, and in conversation with the Indians extolled the abilities of his new initial racker. "He can do anything any ballplayer can do," said the long manager. "He can hit, run the bases and field. He has a few small faults, but all of them can be eliminated easily by experience. And he is smart. He graduated this year from North Carolina A. and M. University, and from what I hear has most of the eccentricities with which most of the left-handers are afflicted."

Arnold, better known as Jiggs Bantz, crack outfielder of the crack Holy Cross nine, New York, which cleaned up the college world, has signed with the Giants after a talk with John McIlwain. Bantz played the outfield, though originally an infielder. In the college ranks he was a hard hitter. However, another Holy Cross outfielder with big league earmarks will come to the Giants shortly for a tryout.

SPORT SALAD

The coming football season gives promise of being one of the best in the history of the game, equalling the years before the war, when the Yale-Harvard contest drew more than 70,000 spectators to New Haven.

Last season few of the universities regular classes, the S. A. T. C. teams being the latest thing to a college squad that was attempted. In many institutions even this form of the sport was dispensed with, calling an entire year from football records. The teams of the universities were badly crippled in 1918 and 1919 through the loss of players who enlisted in either American or foreign service.

Harvard's plans include opening the training camp at least two weeks before college commences. Designated players will report to a training camp in Maine early in September for preliminary work, before going to Cambridge.

Yale football candidates will report at Reggie Brown's Summer place two weeks before the opening of the university. A large number of former Yale football men have returned to their studies.

Dr. A. H. Sharpe, who has coached Cornell eleven for six years, will be in charge of the athletic work at Yale, and will have supervision over football.

Consider the veteran Cravath, how he swats. Came March 23, last and Cravath celebrated his thirty-seventh birthday. Came the opening of the 1919 season and Garry began his sixteenth year as a professional ball player.

This is Cravath's eighth season with the Phillies. For the last two or three years he has been bundled into the diamonds on the say so of baseball writers, rolling in waves of wisdom. But the old boy is still picking

PEACE SIGNED WILL SAFEGUARD WORLD, SAYS PRESIDENT WILSON

"A JUST PEACE, WHICH IF IT CAN BE PRESERVED, WILL SAFEGUARD WORLD FROM UNNECESSARY BLOODSHED"—PRESIDENT WILSON

NEW YORK, July 9.—President Wilson in a rare speech today, when he returned to the United States after his long stay in Europe, declared that the peace signed at Versailles would safeguard the world from unnecessary bloodshed.

"You have made me deeply happy from unnecessary bloodshed," he said.

The only reference the President made to his political opponents was in referring to the negotiations at Paris, he said.

Says Opponents Miss Vision

"I am afraid some people, some persons, do not understand that vision. They do not see it. They have looked too much upon the ground. They have thought too much of the interests that were near them, and they have not listened to the voices of their neighbors."

The full text of President Wilson's speech at Carnegie Hall, follows:

MANY SPEECHES IN SYSTEM

"I am not going to try this after"

to me as your representative on the other side of the water. And it was still more softened by the fact that I had in discovering that America had at last convinced the world of her true character.

"I was welcome because they had seen with their own eyes what America had done for the world. They had seen her devoted to material progress. And they had seen her buy across the water with a vision even more beautiful than that which they conceived when they had entered the arena of liberty and peace."

"And then I had the added privilege of finding out by personal observation the kind of men we had sent over. I had crossed the seas with the kind of men who had taken them over without whom they could not have gone to Europe, and then when I got there I saw that array of men, that array of clean men, that array of men devoted to the high interests of humanity, that array that one was glad to point out and say: 'These are my fellow-countrymen.'"

PRaises Soldiers

"It seems to me that a good deal to have so much of home along with us and these boys were constantly reminding me of home. They did not walk the streets like anybody else. I do not mean that they walked the streets self-consciously. They did not. They walked the streets as if they knew that they belonged where they were. In the great republic, France and England were comrades with the other armies that had helped to win the great battle and to show the great world. Because it is a wonderful thing for this nation, hitherto isolated from the large affairs of the world, to be not only the universal confederate of the people of the world, but their universal affection."

"And that and nothing less than that, is what has happened. Wherever it was suggested that troops should be sent and it was desired that troops of occupation should evolve no prejudice, no unreason, on the part of those to whom they were sent, the men who represented the other nations came to me and asked me to send American soldiers. They not only invited, but they said, that the presence of American soldiers would be known not to mean anything except friendly protection. Do you wonder that it made our hearts swell with pride to realize these things?"

EAGER TO GET BACK

"But while these things in some degree softened my homesickness, they made me all the more eager to get home where the rest of the folks live; to get home where the great drama of national energy was situated, to get home where the great purposes of national action were formed, and to be allowed to take part in the councils and in the actions which were formed and to be taken by this great nation which from first to last has followed the vision of men who set it up and created it. We have had our eyes very close upon our tasks, at times, but whenever we lifted them, as we were accustomed to lift them to a distant horizon, we were aware that all the peoples of the earth had turned their faces toward us as those who were the friends of freedom and of right, and whenever we thought of national policy and of its relation to the affairs of the world, we knew we were under bonds to do the larger thing and the right thing."

"It is a privilege, therefore, beyond all computation, for a man, whether in a great capacity or a small, to take part in the councils and in the realization of a people like this. I am afraid some people, some persons, do not understand that vision. They do not see it. They have looked too much upon the ground. They have thought too much of the interests that were near them, and they have not listened to the voices of their neighbors."

NO DOUBT OF PURPOSE

"I have never had a moment's doubt as to where the heart and purpose of this people lay. When any one on the other side of the water raised the question, 'Will America help?' I have said, 'Of course America will come in and help. She can do nothing else. She will not disappoint any high hope that has been formed of her.' Last of all will she in this day of new born liberty all over the world, fail to extend her hand of support and assistance to those who have been made free."

"I wonder if at this distance you can have got any conception of the terrible intensity of the feeling of those peoples in Europe who have just had yokes thrown off them. Had you reckoned up in your mind how many peoples, how many nations were held unwillingly under the yoke of the Austro-Hungarian empire, under the yoke of Turkey, under the yoke of Germany?"

"These yokes have been thrown off. These peoples breathe the air and look around to see a new day dawn about them, and whenever they think of what is going to fill that day with action, they think first of us. They think first of the friends who throughout the long years have spoken for them, who were privileged to declare that they came into the war to release them, who said that they would not make peace upon any other terms than their liberty, and they have known that America's presence in the war and in the conference was the guarantee of the result."

GREAT TASK AHEAD

"The governor has spoken of a great task ahead. Yes, the formulation of the peace is ended, but it creates only a new task just begun. I believe that if you will study the peace, you will see that it is a just peace and a peace which, if it can be preserved, will save the world from unnecessary bloodshed."

"And now the great task is to preserve it. I have come back with my heart full of enthusiasm for throwing everything that I can, by way of influence or action, in with you to see that the peace is preserved, that when the long reckoning comes, men may look back on this generation of America, and say, 'They were true to the vision which they saw at their birth.'"

Corn Products Plant Scene Of Serious Rioting

CHICAGO, July 9.—Two men were killed and nine wounded yesterday in rioting at the Corn Products Refining Company's plant at Argos, a southern suburb, where the men are on a strike demanding closed shops.

Five automobile loads of men were taken into the plant early today in anticipation of a repetition of the outbreaks, in which two alleged strikers were shot and killed and a score of persons injured. Captain Michael Foren, of the Argos police department, would not affirm or deny that the men taken into the plant were deputy sheriffs, but said that "more trouble was expected and that necessary steps were being taken to prevent it."

The plant employs 2,500 persons, principally foreigners. About half the number struck for recognition of the union, many having been advanced recently. The trouble yesterday arose over a demonstration against a strikeing course which was being the plant. Guards ran to her rescue and shots were fired. Later another similar outbreak occurred.

F. M. Sasse, superintendent of the plant, said that the factory would not be run as a "closed" shop; that operations would be continued with the force remaining and others would be employed as they applied.

PRESIDENT BACK AT THE WHITE HOUSE

WASHINGTON, July 9.—Refreshed after a night's rest, the first he has spent at the White House in four months, President Wilson early today began what promised to be one of the busiest days of his career as chief executive of the United States.

In addition to the vast amount of routine work which had accumulated during his long stay at the peace conference at Paris and which included the signing of a number of important appropriation measures passed recently by congress, the president had planned conferences throughout the day with congressional leaders and members at his cabinet and executive staff. It also was expected that if time was available, later in the day the members of the senate foreign relations committee would be received at the White House for a conference on the peace treaty.

The president found that everything had been arranged so practically every minute of his time would be taken up and might progress in clearing up routine matters possible. The speech, he plans to deliver before the senate Thursday was completed before he landed at New York yesterday from the steamer George Washington and the chief matter in connection with the League of Nations was to be discussed today, was the proposed speech making tour over the country on which Mr. Wilson hopes to be able to leave Washington about the middle of next week. The itinerary of the trip has not yet been completed.

Great Demonstration At Capital

The return of the president and his party to the capital last night was marked by one of the greatest demonstrations in point of the number of those participating that ever greeted a president on his return from a trip. Spectator officials familiar with the handling of big crowds, estimated that the throng that greeted the president at the station and along Pennsylvania avenue at fully 100,000.

The ceremonies of welcome were brief. Responding to an address of welcome from the head of a committee of District citizens, Mr. Wilson said he came home confident that the people of the United States were for the League of Nations. The unexpected welcome he felt it was "immediate assurance" of his feeling. It was after midnight when Mr. and Mrs. Wilson reached the White House from which they had been absent more than four months.

FRENCH GOVERNMENT WINS CONTENTION BY NARROW MARGIN

PARIS, Tuesday, July 8.—The chamber of deputies today rejected a bill providing for the immediate ratification of the state of siege and the suspension of the constitution, the vote being 250 to 202. The government represented by Stephen Poincaré, the foreign minister, opposed the measure.

The socialist and the republican Socialists demanded the immediate suppression of both the state of siege and the censorship, but M. Poincaré declared that this step was impossible before the treaty of peace becomes effective through its ratification by three or more powers.

The debate closed with a categorical statement by the government ratifying the question of confidence on the rejection of the bill. The chamber became greatly agitated during the discussion, the Socialists and the radicals becoming particularly animated. Victor Durrillo, deputy from the eastern Pyrenees, read a recent resolution adopted by the executive committee of the radical party, calling for an immediate return to peace conditions. Many of the radicals, however, refused to follow their party on this question and voted with the government.

It was remarked in the galleries after the vote that this was the second time the government's majority had been reduced to hardly more than fifty, the smallest margin on which any government had continued in power since the beginning of the war.

THE TWO WOMEN IN THE FIGHT

It is said that when Mrs. Jess Willard heard her husband had lost the pugilistic championship at Toledo, she remarked: "Well, I am sorry that Jess lost, but I am glad too. Now he will have to do no more fighting and we can live in peace."

Presumably Dempsey, the conqueror, is not married for we hear nothing of his wife, while his mother is reported to have shouted for joy when she heard her son had won. Her sole comment was: "I am overjoyed Jack has won."

Here then we have two women vitally interested in the Toledo fight, that attracted the whole sporting world. Their emotions are different, just as were the emotions of the winners and losers at the ring-side. Neither was apparently shocked at husband or son being engaged in "a brutal sport." The single thing that concerned them was the outcome. No other emotion swayed them than the interest they had in their loved ones. From which we may surmise that the feminine nature is not essentially different from the masculine. Its position depends mostly on the personal equation, just as that of the sterner sex does. In other words it is a question of familiarity and relationship. Both Mrs. Dempsey and Mrs. Willard have the ordinary sensibilities common to their sex. They, however, being accustomed to a pursuit, which though it involves pain and bloodshed, does not jar their sensibilities at all, though both would most likely run shrieking from the horror of a farmer's wife wringing the neck of a chicken.

This is no argument that women are not naturally of finer sensitiveness than men, that they are not of gentler impulse, but a contention that each is almost altogether the mold of environment. Our views depend so much upon first and continued impression that they have prime part in fixing our morals, or what we choose individually to consider morals. Therefore, if woman is to have that "wider field" her self-appointed advocates are ever clamoring that she is going to be affected therein just as men are affected and in action and character she is going to become more like them, which will be good for neither. Only one thing will hold her better and that is her ingrained sexual sensitiveness to "what they say."

AFTER MANY YEARS

Be sure your sins will find you out" is a favorite quotation of pulpit orators and today the saying comes home with a vengeance to a personage high in political life, United States Senator Harry S. New, of Indiana. It would appear from press dispatches and from a statement issued by Senator New that more than thirty years ago he became entangled with a woman, with unhappy results. And then a young man grew up in Indiana under the name of Harry S. New, Jr. He enlisted during the recent war and made an honorable record. Then he went to Los Angeles, got mixed up in a love affair, became jealous and killed his sweetheart, while on an automobile ride. Returning to Los Angeles, the murderer surrendered and calmly announced what he had done. At the same time he said he was the son of United States Senator New, of Indiana. No sooner had the wires carried East the news of the murder, than a woman in Indiana, gave out an interview, saying she was the mother of the young man, that she had been married to Senator New more than 30 years ago and then divorced, after the son had been born. She called upon Senator New to come to the aid of his son. The Senator denied there had been a marriage, but admitted there had been a relationship at an earlier stage of his life between himself and the Indiana woman.

Thus did a thirty year old scandal come up like a skyrocket to plague the life of Senator New, and perhaps to destroy a promising political career. For Senator New is but entering upon a six year term in the senate. He is a man of ability and great things were expected of him. But it is doubtful if he will ever be able to rise above being a senatorial automaton now. And if the scandal grows apace, it is possible that he may be compelled by the outraged citizens of Indiana to resign his seat.

MOVIE CENSOR BUNK

The ways of the honorable, if not esteemed moving picture censor board of Ohio are, like those of the heathen Chinese, dark and peculiar. This board has passed for exhibition in Ohio all sorts and conditions of moving pictures, many of which range from doubtful to positively unfit, so far as public morals are concerned and the possible effect upon young people. Yet this Picture Board is holding up its hands in holy horror at the idea of pictures of the Dempsey-Willard fiasco being exhibited and has refused to pass them for Ohio. According to the Movie Board the pictures are liable to have a bad effect upon younger patrons of the Movie houses. Bunk, it seems to us. Especially so when the same board passes for exhibition the so-called vampire pictures and others of like character. One vampire picture will do more harm in a minute than the picture of a couple of men boxing in a century, but the movie board is supreme. So the brulcers go and the Vamps hold the stage.

IT IS NOT SURPRISING

AND so the referendum on the Miller bill, which required that members of the state industrial commission shall be confirmed by the senate, has failed because of lack of signatures. Well, why not? The whole thing was political in nature, the Republican senate trying to block new appointments so that if a Republican governor is elected next year the incoming governor could seize control of the Commission, and the Democratic organization trying to block the plan through a referendum. So far as the Industrial Commission is concerned, we do not think it will affect it one iota, so far as its usefulness is concerned. It will go right ahead, only a few more appointments may be made among the personnel of its employees on political grounds. The whole procedure shows that the mass of the people will not be excited over the scrapping of politicians, even to the extent of affixing their signatures to a scrap of paper.

THE WISHING PLANE

WILLIS WINTER

Jack would have liked to have put on one of the suits of armor the children saw in the attic, but when the king put one of the big metal coats around Jack the youngster found that it reached from floor to almost his shoulders. He knew that he wouldn't be able to move if he did have it fastened on him.

The king also showed them two or three of the saddles the knights used—for you know they all rode horseback. Each one of the saddles was big enough to hold Jack and Jane and Jeanne all at once.

They were built of thick leather of many layers and fastened with huge brass rivets. The children thought that one of the saddles alone would be a load for the horse to carry.

When they had finished examining the armor, the king opened chest after chest containing the clothes worn by the kings and queens and other court folk from the days of the knights down to the present time. The king told the children interesting stories about each one of the rulers and how the crown had been handed down from one to another.

NEW YORK DAY-BY-DAY

DOEYNTRE

NEW YORK, July 9—
I'm going to write a book.
Which will be called.
"The Trail of the Lonesome Stein."
Until all this talk.
About working men and beer.
I never thought.
Of drinking the stuff.
And my favorite tipple.

Has been frosted chocolate.

And when I felt devilish.

I'd put in a dash.

Of powdered nutmeg.

But the other day.

I got a bottle of near beer.

And swanked home with it.

And went down.

In the basement.

WHO'S WHO

IN THE DAY'S NEWS

SIR S. H. SINHA

Sir Satendra Prasad Sinha, K. C., will go down to history as representing in his own person more fully than any contemporary Indian the progress of the country toward the ultimate goal of self-government within the empire. The courtesy of his advancement from the obscurity of an Indian village to the highest office in the Indian government is a remarkable story.

He was the first Indian to be appointed permanent advocate general of Bengal, and to become, just under ten years ago, a member of the viceroy's executive council. He is the first Indian to "take silk" (an honor hitherto jealously confined to the bar practicing in England) to be a member (in association with the Maharajah of the Bhikar) of the Imperial war cabinet in 1917, and now to participate in the peace conference, to be a member of the ministry in Whitehall, and finally, to be raised to the peerage for his services to the India office as under secretary in the house of lords. He is the second Indian (Amir Ali being the first) to be named of the privy council.

And got behind a barrel.

And fished for a rabbit.

I had in my vest pocket.

And dropped it.

Into the mouth of the bottle.

And went up stairs.

And waited five days.

And yesterday I went down.

And drank it all.

And I got upstairs.

And began singing.

About being only a bird.

In a gilded cage.

And my wife came in.

And I kissed her.

And gave her my watch.

And my fountain pen.

And then Perceval.

The hired man came.

And I gave him.

My fur overcoat.

And two tickets.

To the Midland Follies.

And raised his salary.

And then I went in.

And laid down.

And before dinner.

I was awakened.

By a terrible thirst.

And I'm all feverish.

And dizzy.

And everything.

And up on the mantle.

Is an old Stein.

With a quaint old motto.

And it looks sad.

And lonely.

And dark days are ahead.

And that is why.

I'm going to write.

A book about it.

Only The Jugs Are Left

"Pack my box with five dozen liquor jugs", in the shortest sentence containing all the letters of the English alphabet, and there is no law against liquor jugs so long as there is no liquor in them.

English Weight

An American gold in England, standing on the platform of the railroad station, stepped on the scales to weigh himself. The scale was graduated by stones, a stone being equal to fourteen pounds. He seemed to have some difficulty in figuring it out and finally an English gentleman stepped up and said: "That you tell your weight, Jack?" "Sure," replied the gold, "it's about eleven stones, two bricks and a couple of boards."

A Shady One

She (in reality) pulled down the shades, "Nietzsche. Even the books have eyes."

Woman's Way

Mrs. Gasson—Not another word. It's an outrageous scandal! I won't listen to another word upon the subject!

Mrs. Gasson—Oh, go on, dear!—New York American.

Bravery

A sturdy Scotsman had been having a dispute with his wife, which resulted in his taking refuge under the bed. As she stood on guard under a postulated stick in her hand, he called lustily from his retreat: "Ye can lamb me and ye can bare me, but ye ranna break ma manly spirit. I'll be come out."

All In The Day's Work

A story of a plumber and a painter who were working in the same house, is told in Everybody's Magazine. The painter arrived late one morning, and the plumber, looking up from his work, said: "You're late this morning."

"Yes," said the painter, "I had to stop and have my hair cut."

"You didn't do it on your employer's time, did you?" asked the plumber.

"Why not?" said the painter. "It grew on his time."

All Ready For The Dog Catcher

Sheriff Has Equipment

That "informal" dog question has just about been settled. Tuesday afternoon the county commissioners delivered to Sheriff Ernest Rieker a net and cages for the taking and impounding of stray dogs who are wont to run the public streets without a license tag. The net and cages were made by Amos Hibbard, inmate of the county infirmary. While not the latest thing in the dog catching line, the equipment made by Hibbard will serve its purpose well.

The commissioners did not stop at furnishing the net and cages, but made the job of dog catcher possible by appropriating $110 which will pay the salary of a dog catcher for thirty days. The dog catcher is to furnish his own conveyance.

It was learned Tuesday afternoon that Reuben Shunkwiler, formerly constable at Seabrook, was one of the several applicants for the job. Sheriff Ernest Rieker will probably appoint a dog catcher in a few days, and the work of clearing the city of stray and unowned dogs will be started.

"GIVE YOUR OWN NAME IF YOU ARE ARRESTED," RULES HUNTINGTON MAYOR

HUNTINGTON, W. VA., July 1.—Incognito. And for various other reasons, persons who have been arrested desire to conceal their real identity by giving fictitious names at the police station.

In the past persons arrested for gambling or for leaving the straight and narrow path in other directions, have quietly furnished bond, and failed to appear the next day in court. They preferred to forfeit the money rather than court the notoriety of a public trial.

Now, says Mayor Campbell, in his latest pronouncement, all this must stop. Fake names are banned, not only on the police register, but also on the hotel registers.

Persons who give fictitious names when arrested and forfeit their bond the next day in police court, will be rearrested and brought to trial. The mayor adheres to his present purpose.

It has been understood that one of the main reasons for Mayor Campbell requiring bond from hotels and rooming houses, is that in the event the managers of these places knowingly permit persons to register under fictitious names as "man and wife," the license of the hotel or rooming house may be revoked and the bond forfeited.

Penherton was badly beaten up by Fred and Robert Rollins in a fight at New Boston a few weeks ago and is believed that his present pitiful condition resulted from the wounds inflicted upon him in the encounter. Penherton's assailants were arrested and bound over to the grand jury and they are now out on bond.

There was a material difference in the cost of feeding prisoners at the city watch-house during May, the last month under the wet regime, and June, the first month of the Great Drought, according to reports made to City Auditor L. A. Zucker.

During the month of May the sum of $14.00 was expended alone for "hot dogs," while the bread bill was $2.00, making a total of $16.00 for the period, while during June, 2025 was the sum total of the cost of "hot dogs" and $2.00 for bread, leaving a difference in favor of June of $6.25.

WANT FUND TO KEEP STREETS CLEAN

A movement has been started looking toward the formation of an organization among local automobile owners for the purpose of raising funds for cleaning the streets of the city.

The city street cleaning department is considerably handicapped by the lack of funds in order to keep the thoroughfares properly cleaned, and much complaint is heard from motorists of frequent fractures due to so much trash and refuse left in the streets.

It has been suggested that each machine be taxed $1, and to use the money derived in this manner in keeping the streets clean. The plan has been endorsed by quite a number of prominent machine owners who have joined in with the movement, which promises to meet with much favor.
